For the love of Teaching..... I love what I do. I teach, I take classes and I am always trying to learn something new. I get so much joy from teaching others. It's very rewarding for me. When I teach yoga this seems to work best. I love the breath work in yoga and there is so much technique that can be mastered with practice and repetition. It's fun for me to see the students do things they have not thought of doing. The other day I had a student say to me "You've taught me how to wear my brace again." She had been wearing it for a month but was finally ready to let go of it. How great is that? My life is filled with such delight for me to see my students grow. Thank you for reading.
